

General Complaints Submission Form

The American Board of Forensic Anthropology (ABFA) investigates complaints in accordance with the Bylaws and Policies and Procedures Manual.

Please complete this form and submit via email along with supporting documentation to the ABFA Secretary, whose contact information is on the ABFA Board of Directors page.

Complaints must describe the nature of the issue and be signed by the Complainant (person making the complaint). Please reference the ABFA General Complaints Procedure for pertinent deadlines and additional information.

- a. A complaint is defined as an expression of dissatisfaction where a response is expected.
- b. Complaints may originate from sources internal or external to the ABFA. The Complainant may be a Diplomat or Analyst of the ABFA, a member of the Board of Directors, or any other person, and may be based upon public information from the news media, court records, or other sources.
- c. The complaint must clearly describe the expression of dissatisfaction and be accompanied by supporting evidence.

Note: Appeals concerning the ABFA examination or ethics complaints should be directed to the Appeals and Ethics Committees, respectively.
